

ENLISTED MEN WILL BE TAKEN IF CAPABLE

Daniels Will Promote Them to Grade of Assistant Paymaster.

Ten vacancies in the grade of assistant paymaster in the navy will be filled by enlisted men if they are able to pass the prescribed examinations, according to an announcement made today by Mr. Josephus Daniels, the Secretary of the Navy. If enough men cannot be obtained from the enlisted personnel of the navy the remaining vacancies will be filled from civil life as heretofore.

According to the law candidates for appointment as assistant paymaster must be between the ages of 21 and 26 years and must pass prescribed physical and mental examinations. These examinations will be held at all stations at home as well as abroad, and the ten men who stand highest will be appointed. The date for the examinations has not been yet decided, but it will be about July 1.

This is a further step in line with Mr. Daniels' policy of improving the condition of the enlisted men of the navy. He believes that there are enlisted men competent to discharge the duties of assistant paymaster, and he believes that they should have an opportunity to take the examinations. He believes that all the ten vacancies can be filled in this manner.

At present the navy is short about 5000 men of its authorized strength. The department to induce enlistments has taken every opportunity of doing what it can to better the conditions of the enlisted men. Under the present law they can be advanced to the commissioned grades if they are able to pass the examinations. Several days ago two enlisted men obtained appointments to the naval academy at Annapolis.

REPLY TO JAPAN IS DRAFTED

President Wilson and Cabinet Spend
Two Hours in Considering Document of State Department

Washington, May 16.—A tentative draft of the reply of the United States government to the Japanese protest against California land legislation prepared by John Bassett Moore, counselor of the state department, was considered for two hours today by President Wilson and the cabinet.

No intimation of its nature was made public. Secretary Bryan positively declining to discuss either the proposed reply or Japan's protest.

The secretary made a statement deprecating efforts to guess at the varying phases of official negotiations, declaring that serious mischief might result and a satisfactory conclusion be retarded or prevented. He referred to the fact that his present position obliged him to reverse his usual attitude toward public discussion of public issues.

There are indications that the state department is awaiting final action by Governor Johnson upon the alien land bill, either in the faint hope that he might at the last moment change his mind and veto the measure, or more probably with the purpose of having the approved act as a basis for further discussion.

The Japanese government likewise is awaiting the Governor's action with the keenest interest, indicating another move forward in the negotiations as soon as the bill is signed. While protesting against the California legislation so far has suggested no remedy. That is left entirely with the United States and it is believed here that even the idea of instituting proceedings to test the validity of the law may be abandoned. Meanwhile taking their cue from the President's statement last night regarding military and naval movements, the officials of both the war and navy departments today were endeavoring to avoid issuing any orders or statements that would contribute to sensational reports of unusual activities in their departments. A number of army officers were ordered to Hawaii, but only to join the commands in conformity with the law limiting the length of time that land service officers may have before resuming active duty.

At the navy department secretary Daniels positively denied any connection between the new naval movements recorded during the last 24 hours and the Japanese situation. He took pains to point out that the departure yesterday from San Pedro for San Francisco of the big armored cruiser Maryland was simply in continuation of a local test that is being made by that vessel which was arranged by the navy department about a month ago. The Maryland will end these coast tests at San Francisco.

The navy department it was stated does not intend to send any vessels from the Atlantic to the Pacific side of the continent at this juncture.

HARRISBURG MAN SHOOTS RELATIVE AND LITTLE GIRL

Placed Under Arrest After Arm Had Been Shattered by Bullet.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 16.—William C. Hastings, a brother of the late Governor Daniel H. Hastings, made a murderous attack tonight on Ross A. Hickok, husband of the former Governor's daughter, at Mr. Hickok's residence in this city.

Hastings fired seven shots at Hickok from an automatic revolver during a hand to hand struggle in the hallway of the Hickok residence. Only one bullet took effect penetrating the right side of the abdomen. The wound is not serious it is believed.

Hastings was arrested after a desperate struggle with the police, in the course of which a score of shots were fired, and a girl bystander was shot in the leg. Hastings himself received a bullet wound in his right arm.

Hastings who is 75 years old gained notoriety years ago by public attacks on his brother, the governor, whom he accused of having deprived him of his share of some family money.

He went to the Hickok home tonight and demanded to see Mr. Hickok. When the latter ordered him from the house, Hastings drew a revolver and began firing. Hickok, who is of athletic build caught the man in his arms and barred him through the doorway. As the door closed, Hastings began firing again, sending four bullets through the door, one of which struck Hickok above the right hip, struck Hickok above the right hip, police were notified and half a dozen gave chase. Hastings was overtaken at Second and Broad streets, where he turned and opened fire on the police.

A fusillade of bullets followed and Hastings emptied three revolvers. When a policeman's bullet broke his arm Hastings fell and was overpowered. In the melee Louise Knisley aged 8 was shot in the leg. Hastings was taken to the county jail. His mind is believed to be unbalanced.

TO LEAD ATTACK ON UNITED SHOE

J. A. Fowler, Assistant to the Attorney General, Coming to Boston to Take Part in Action

Washington, May 16.—James A. Fowler, assistant to the attorney general and in immediate charge of the government's anti-trust cases, will go to Boston next Thursday to take personal direction of the civil anti-trust prosecution of the United States Machinery Company, which the Department of Justice is seeking to dissolve under the Sherman Law.

While the assistant to the attorney general frequently appears in the United States supreme court in suits against so called trusts, this is the first time that Mr. Fowler has gone to the lower courts to represent the government. He will be assisted by William S. Green, special assistant to the attorney general.

The case is regarded by the department of justice as of vast importance involving tremendous issues relating to patents to some extent and to issues of combination not yet dealt with under the Sherman law.

The trial beginning Tuesday, will be before Circuit Judges Putnam and Dodge. It will be the first anti-trust trial under the new rules of the supreme court, ordering all testimony in equity cases to be taken in open court before judges, and not except in special instances, before masters or commissioners appointed by the court as has been the case in the past.

The public trial in this case is also in compliance with the law passed at the last session of the house providing that testimony in anti-trust cases must be taken in public. This law was the direct result of an order by the Boston Federal judges that the United Shoe Machinery evidence should be submitted in private.

MASTER MACHINIST WEARIN TENDERS HIS RESIGNATION

Was Charged by Workmen With Incompetency and Abusive Treatment at Recent Hearing

Frank W. Wearin, Master Machinist at the navy yard who was removed by the Navy Department on May 8, and later restored for a week has resigned. The Navy Department permitted him to resign today. The time of his reinstatement was for one week, and the day of expiration today.

While the board that found Mr. Wearin guilty of the charges, conducted its hearings inside closed doors and the witnesses were frequently instructed by the board to maintain the strictest secrecy, the nature of the evidence against Mr. Wearin became public. The charges as originally presented against Mr. Wearin were made by the following employees or former employees of his department:

Stdney P. Hackney, H. E. Hunscom, John F. Adams, Roland W. Adams, Edwin A. Duncan, E. V. Wilcox, W. J. M. Hackney, J. H. Harton, and John P. Kelley. These witnesses and about 30 others summoned before the board testified that Mr. Wearin constantly applied his vile names to them, was in frequent use of nasty epithets, made many serious mistakes in his conduct of the work and that he slept, smoked cigars, and shaved while on duty. It was further testified that he allowed private work to go on during the working time allotted by the government.

A summary of the important witnesses against Mr. Wearin and their evidence is as follows: W. F. Hackney, a machinist in the tool room, that he was called vile names for applying a wrong size of pulleys to drive machines when he had no knowledge that the pulleys were supplied; Henry H. Ham that he was frequently called a liar and that he saw Mr. Wearin asleep, smoking, and shaving while on duty; William H. Noyes, that after he had been discharged he refused a call on the yard because he could not submit himself to the abuse heaped upon him by the master machinist; John Adams that he resigned because he could not tolerate the master machinist, and because Mr. Wearin disrespected him after he had qualified as a first class machinist; John Stubbetham, that he was abused by Mr. Wearin after he had saved Mr. Wearin from injury by defective machinery; John H. Morrill, that he resigned instantly when the master machinist called him a degrading name; Joseph T. Wallis, who is 76 years old, that Mr. Wearin threatened to kick him out of the shop; William H. Hines asked for his discharge and refused to accept a call for work because he could not stand for the abuse; W. J. M. Hackney, that the master machinist said to him, "I would have to be a bloody Englishman," because E. Hunscom that he refused a call to go back to work because of Mr. Wearin's abuse.

Edwin Duncan who is 70 years old, said that Mr. Wearin threatened to "knock his block off" that when he reported the altercation with Mr. Wearin to the commandant, the latter advised Mr. Wearin to strike hands with his employee and that Mr. Wearin again abused him because other employees learned of the incident; Thomas M. Morrow that he was abused by Mr. Wearin because he accepted an order from Gunner Beakes; John P. Kelley, that he heard Mr. Wearin constantly applying vile names to the men, that he saw him asleep in his office and the men walking around to look at him like

NEWLY WEDS ARE SERENADED BY THEIR FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. Giddings Presented With a Handsome Silver Service.

The climax in the secret marriage of Charles J. Giddings a fireman on the Boston & Maine railroad, and Miss May Stimpson, a former telegraph operator for the same company was reached on Friday night when nearly 200 of their friends in this city came back at them with a surprise which the married couple were forced to admit was planned and carried out to perfection.

The delegation made up mostly of railroad men gathered at the depot at 8 o'clock and headed by the Eureka Drum Corps and plenty of red fire, they proceeded to do things. Arriving at the domicile of the newlyweds they demanded the presence of the husband who rushed to the piazza clad in a bath robe and slippers. He realized that the jig was up and prepared for anything that might come his way. The first thing that happened was the presentation of a beautiful and costly silver service of nine pieces. This was handed over to Mr. Giddings by train erler John Carter who was right at home on the job. It took the firemen some time to get together but he managed to regulate his composure and thank the gathering, declaring that the boys had certainly put it over on him.

The affair did not end here, there was more coming, and Giddings got his. The body guard was ordered to lay hands on him, and with the band playing "I got Mine" they marched him through several streets to the delight and amusement of several hundred people along the line. They were married at Providence on October 1 and the dashing touches to their romance were certainly applied in royal style on Friday night.

"TORRENT OF ABUSE."

So Say the Attorneys of New Haven and Boston and Maine.

Counsel for the New York, New Haven & Hartford and the Boston & Maine railroads today submitted to the interstate commerce commission, at Washington, their final analyses of the inquiry into their operations. The briefs follow closely the lines of the local arguments presented last week.

In conclusion their summary of the proceedings, counsel say "There can be no doubt that the torrent of abuse which has been poured upon the railroads has had a serious effect upon the morals of these organizations. No small part of the time of the principal officers have been devoted to preparing for hearings before state and federal commissions and in preparing for trials before state and federal courts. It is a marvel that the results accomplished have been as good as they are."

ARMY HORSES.

Government to Place Them in This State for Better Breeding.

Washington, May 17.—Under the plan adopted by the war department for the betterment of the breed of horses used in the cavalry and artillery branches of the army, the bureau of animal industry of the department of agriculture has completed arrangements for distributing its stud of 44 stallions throughout the country.

The results of efforts of the bureau to encourage the breeding of army horses are gratifying. It was announced today.

Announcement was also made of the placing of seven Morgan stallions in the New England horse breeding district, comprising the states of New Hampshire and Vermont.

LEGISLATURE HOLD A SHORT SESSION

Vote to Pay Representative Snow-- Governor Sore Over Defeat of Administration Measure.

Concord, May 16.—The house of representatives this morning devoted the time principally to voting salaries and killing labor bills.

Representative Allen of Concord introduced a resolution, which was passed under a suspension of the rules, to pay to former Representative Clifford L. Snow of Manchester, who was dismissed from the house earlier in the session on charges of improper conduct, his salary for the time he served as a member, and which amounts to $150.55.

It was also voted under a suspension of the rules to pay to the estate of Representative George D. Waldron of Concord, whose death occurred last week in Dallas, Tex., his salary for the term, and a similar resolution was passed providing for the payment to Congressman Raymond B. Stevens of Landaff his full salary as a member of the house of representatives.

Four labor bills were killed, most of them being virtually duplicate bills. Two of them related to the hours of labor for women and were virtually duplicates of the provisions of the fifty-four hour bill already passed one was to prevent coercion of employees, and the other to prevent shoe manufacturers from charging employees for damaged shoes.

Representative Elwell of Exeter, called up the resolution introduced by Baker of Exeter, which provides that the house instruct the New Hampshire delegation in the national house of representatives and in the senate to oppose the Underwood tariff bill on the ground that it would work hardships to the industries of the state.

The resolution went into unfinished business for lack of the necessary two-thirds vote, on a division of the house on Thursday. Mr. Elwell moved that the resolution be made a special order for Thursday, and it again went into unfinished business.

It is rumored about the state house corridors that the governor is not taking the defeat of one of his pet measures, the combining of the tax and license commissions, with entire resignation, and it has even been intimated that he was seriously contemplating returning the bill in a new draft or otherwise, in a second attempt to get it through.

The result of the contest in the house was the indefinite postponement of the bill by the vote of 148 to 124.

Perkins of Manchester, Elwell of Exeter, Smith of Peterborough and Wason of Nashua attacked the bill on the ground that it was inexpedient and inadvisable to combine the two boards. Quite a number of Democrats apparently had no use for the measure, and voted against it. Mr. Allen of Concord supported the bill alone, his only argument being that the governor wanted it. Unfortunately a number of the Democrats did not want it, and they decided not to have it.

Among the administration bills which are aimed to legislate pretty nearly everyone out of office is one yet to be introduced. It is stated, which provides for ousting the judges of probate. The decision to introduce the bill was arrived at, it is said, at the request of Governor Felker at the Democratic caucus yesterday afternoon.

MUST SERVE AFTER BEING EDUCATED

Washington, May 16.—Young officers in the navy are discussing with mixed emotions the announcement by Sec. Daniels that hereafter the navy department would frown upon the retirement of juniors from the service. In the past young officers retiring have done so with a rank higher or than the grade they occupied. This is to be stopped. The statement that caused the flurry follows:

"While the Secretary of the navy has not issued any general orders restricting the applications for voluntary retirement under the personnel act of 1890, yet it is well understood that his attitude and the probable attitude of the Administration is in opposition to allowing the retirement of the younger officers who are in health and have a number of years of useful service on the active list before them." Sec. Daniels, it is well known, looks with extreme disfavor on the retirement of young officers for the education and training received at the hands of the Government. Under the new "plucking" system, by which senior officers will be retired much more rapidly than in the past, the junior officers will have less ground for complaint of slowness of promotion.

MERIT SYSTEM TO COUNT WITH WILSON

Washington, May 16.—While President Wilson has not yet begun consideration of changes in the consular service, his present inclination is to put the consular representatives of the Government under the Civil Service. This became known at the White House today. It was said that while there might be changes in the personnel of consuls general at the more important posts, these would extend only to such places as might have been filled with political favorites heretofore and not by promotion from the consular service itself.

MASTER BUILDERS ARE STILL FIRM IN REFUSAL

A meeting of the Master Builders Association was held on Friday evening and there was no change in the attitude of the contractors regarding the strike. They all appeared confident that they would win out in the end.

A request for a conference with a committee of the Union was received and a committee was appointed to meet the Union committee.

The striking carpenters have made no headway since they went out, for all of the men who refused to strike are still working and claim that they will remain at work as long as the contractors want them.

NEW GERMAN DIVING DRESS

Only Connection with the Service is a Telephone Cable

(New York Correspondent Philadelphia Ledger).

A new form of diving dress which is entirely self contained, has been perfected in Germany.

The only necessary connection with the surface is a telephone cable by which the diver and his surface attendants can keep in touch. The diver carries upon his back in a tank, a couple of metal cylinders within which are stored pure oxygen under high pressure and also a vessel containing caustic soda.

Under normal conditions of rest a man need 7.5 litres of fresh air every minute, the moment he exerts himself strenuously the demand rises severalfold. This is to dispose of the carbonic acid gas, due to the increased muscular action, and to give him the added oxygen needed.

Now the German who invented this diving dress meets the requirements in this manner. First the exhaled air is regenerated by being sucked through the caustic soda, which absorbs all the carbonic contained in the impure air, and second the deficit in oxygen is made up by the addition of little litres of pure oxygen from the tanks during every period of one minute of submergence.

Of course this cycle cannot be worked continuously without an outlet, and a certain amount of used air is exhausted the while. The pressure within the divers headpiece is entirely under his own control, and he regulates it to suit his own needs and the depth at which he is working.

He is not dependent upon the working of air pumps at the surface, nor does he safely hinge upon the faithfulness with which the men their do their work. He has no long air hose to hamper him or to cause him anxiety lest it become fouled in some submerged obstruction. His small telephone wire is not vital to his well-being, and should that catch in any way he can free himself instantly by severing it. The apparatus is self sufficient for a period of two or three hours depending of course upon the manner in which the diver handles the air supply.

On the front of his suit the diver has another air vessel charged at high pressure which weighs just about the same as the lead weight, which other divers must carry to help them sink. This air supply serves two purposes. First as a reserve in case of need, and second as a medium by which the diver can inflate his suit at will.

If descending too fast from the surface, a little of this air let into his dress gives it buoyancy and his fall is arrested. On the other hand if he is at the bottom and wishes to rise, by distending his suit slightly in this manner he starts upward, and by regulating the exhaust as he mounts nicker he can return to the surface with the utmost deliberation.

As a logical consequence of this foreign diving dress has come the submarine sled.

With the ordinary diving suit the under water worker would have to be brought to the surface, his helmet detached or the pumps kept running all the time, the floating tender moved to a new anchorage and the diver sent below again to renew his sojourn. Days might easily be lost in this way, especially where tidal conditions limit the period of activity.

The diver, garbed in his German suit, takes his place in the metal sled and the sled is attached to a motorboat. By telephoning the diver notifies the captain of the boat to go ahead, and the sled rises to the surface, slides along upon the sea bottom or goes sliding through the water a few feet above the bottom, as the diver desires. The sled is fitted with diving ladders somewhat like those fitted to submarine mines and by either elevating or depressing the fronts of these ladders the man inside the sled rises or descends when it is in motion.

To make it rise or sink when not under way the sled is supplied with buoyancy tanks and tanks of compressed air. If the air in the buoyancy tanks is exhausted water takes its place and the sled sinks. To raise the water is forced out by the compressed air from the reserve tanks, the buoyancy tanks are closed and the sled returns to the surface. These operations can be repeated as long as fresh air is available.

The sled is furnished with searchlights and electric current is led to them by means of a cable from the motorboat.

BOND COERCION BY SUFFRAGETTES

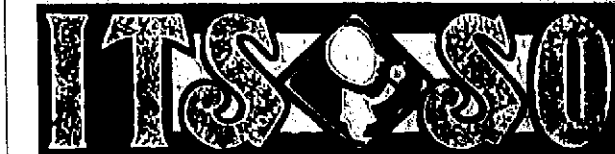

London, May 16.—The militant suffragettes campaign of coercion by means of "bombs" placed in public institutions in order to intimidate the British Government into granting the parliamentary franchise to women was carried on in several quarters of London and the provinces today. A very workmanlike canister of explosives with a clockwork was found in the British Public Library in the southeast of London this morning. It was labelled "votes for women." The bomb was placed, according to the latest prevailing in some quarters, by a man posing as whom the police said had been engaged by the office of the militant suffragette society for this work.

Another machine was found today in the letter box of the Westminster district post office in the extreme southwest of London. It consisted of a glass (the containing fluid. A partly burned fuse was attached to one end. The police declare that the post office was apparently the work of the militant suffragettes.

A bomb was also found at the West End of London also

PEACE DELEGATES IN CHICAGO

Chicago.—The peace delegates touring the country in the interests of the centennial celebration of peace among the English speaking peoples participated in a meeting at the University of Chicago today. Plans for the 1915 celebration were discussed. Later they visited the stock yards and were entertained at luncheon at the Press club. After a banquet tonight the delegates will leave for Detroit.

The Navy and Peace.

What democrat will stand forth at the regular session in the House as the advocate of an adequate navy—a big navy, if you please?

Governor Sulzer when in Congress always supported liberal appropriations for the navy. He took an excellent position on the subject, and maintained it well. If he were in the House now he would be a strong influence for keeping our sea power up to the mark.

Mr. Hobson is present, and knows the subject thoroughly. But he labors under the difficulty of an obsession as to Japan. He wants us to provide on the water against that nation; whose professions of friendship he distrusts, and whose real purposes he believes to be inimical to America. So that when Mr. Hobson asks for more ships his request is construed as directed at Japan.

Now there is no call for us to put any power on notice—not Japan, Germany, Great Britain, nor any other. We are not providing against a particular thing imminent, but a general thing possible. We are not expecting war. We are not maneuvering for war. We do not want war. But, for all that, war may come, and, if it does, we should be ready for it.

Let us talk peace, and talk it sincerely, with any power with all the powers. It is a good topic, and a mighty good thing. And we must talk it eloquently to keep up with the fashion. Great Britain, Germany, France, Japan, are all masters of phrases which captivate the fancy when peace is maintained. But Great Britain's phrases are supported by long rows of big guns afloat. Germany's by a row the Germans would have longer. France's by a steadily lengthening row, and Japan's by a row which is increasing her power rapidly. Let us have an eye to our row, so that our phrases may not lack for what gives force to the phrases of others. Preparedness for war as a means of keeping the peace has yielded enormous results, but never greater results than during the last year. But for the fact that all Europe was thoroughly "fit," all Europe would probably have become embroiled by the clash between Turkey and the Balkan states; and that would have lighted a conflagration "staggering humanity."

But every power was "fit," and every one on the alert. Statesmen in or out of office, and newspapers without regard to party, counseled prudence, knowing that a single false step might precipitate an appalling situation of world-wide consequence. Let us provide our share of a peace-preserving war equipment. We cannot hurry the millennium, and are certain to be ready for it when it comes in the appointed time. —Washington Star.

White Flannel Days.

It is well that the sober judgment of the high school boys has asserted itself, and they have refused to follow the suggestion of some of their fellows that white flannel should be the garb of the young men of the graduating class of this year. Perhaps the suggestion was only a bit of "kidding," which high school boys like to indulge in. The young men have not yet come to see the seriousness of life. Perhaps that is well. There is time enough for that. But they ought to realize that going out from the high school is a season of more than ordinary interest for them, and if there is any consideration at all for what is the proper garb it is well that the clothes be those of soberness and dignity rather than that of a minstrel show. Some of these boys are probably ending their school days. While some of them may go to higher institutions of learning, many, perhaps a majority, will take up some vocation. There isn't going to be much white flannel for these latter. They will go into the world finding a lot of competition in trade and profession and little time for white flannel. It is well, therefore, that the ending of school days for a boy be marked with some realization of what the future is to be. We do not advise mourning, for that would be as inappropriate as white flannel, but a graduation for a young man should bring with it some ideas of responsibility and reflection. And no man garbed in white flannel can ever get into a reflective mood. He's thinking of sport and gaiety. School days, when father pays the bills, may be good for white flannel garb, but when a boy gets to the position where he is faced with earning for himself, gay trousers do not become him. —Lynn News.

In the above editorial is a lot of good common sense and not only applies to the male graduates of the Lynn high school, but to other New England cities, our own included.

Better Wait for $15,000 More.

There is a strong local sentiment that Portsmouth should not be satisfied with a $15,000 armory. That sum might do for a building at Gonic. When it is known that a building like the Granite State Insurance Company garage cost about $30,000 one can imagine what the armory would be.

Festal Month of May Inspires Many Pretty Outdoor Celebrations Throughout the Land.

Photos by American Press Association.

May, the month of festivals, has inspired many beautiful and pleasure giving spectacles this year. Among the biggest May celebrations was that in Central park, New York, where 7,000 girls from the public schools danced around May poles on the green. To make the scene more realistic seventy lands were turned loose on the sword, much to the delight of many children who never had seen such creatures. In the upper part of this illustration is a general view of the crowd around one of the May poles, taken when enthusiasm was highest. Below are shown some groups of children dancing. In the center is a photograph of Mrs. Lorillard Spencer, one of the society women who witnessed the big celebration.

hole. He brought an admission from Vice President Marshall on Thursday that he (Marshall) was out of order. The senator is a fighter and he knows that the "grand stand players" that have been fooling the people with their false promises are on their last legs. He delights in exposing these men.

Let Well Enough Alone.

If any one attempts to get the local police department into politics, be he big or little, this paper predicts that he will get his. The present chief of police is a democrat and he satisfies both parties.

Better Begin Now.

It is not too late to join the movement to slick up your back yard and to straighten up that broken down fence.

Will Win Out.

Just tell the "knockers" that the new factory proposition is going to win out.

ALWAYS TRUST FIREMEN

But Few People Have Anything Good to Say of Policemen

How is that nobody ever has a good word for policeman? Wherever you go good policemen are always in the next town.

New York Praises Cleveland's police, and you believe it until you read the Cleveland papers. Cincinnati people tell you what a splendid force they have in Detroit. Detroit tells you about St. Louis. St. Louis about Toledo. And go from one city to another and the local citizens say that the force is no good; and so it goes.

On the other hand they generally try to tell you that their fire department is better than others. They are proud of their firemen. You never hear speechless charges like graft or inefficiency brought against firemen.

The general opinion estimate of the two branches of the service seems to rank firemen and policemen on two entirely different grades of character or level of manhood. Everybody believes in firemen and no one believes much in policemen. Firemen are picked for granted as brave and manly, and policemen are always supposed to be weak watching.

A NEW BELL

In this new 16000 pound bell which is now being cast to be hung in the tower of the New West Baptist church in Bangor, Me., 100 pounds of metal taken from the ruins of the bell in the old church will be used. The bell which formerly hung in the old First Baptist church was cast in 1823.

BOSTON & MAINE PENSIONS.

The Company Now Pays $8,206 a Month to 258 Employees.

It has been said that railroads do not make money; they collect and distribute money. Some roads do this not alone in wages, but in pensions to superannuated employees.

Figures just made public by the Boston & Maine railroad show that in the thirty months from Oct. 1, 1910, to March 31, 1913, there has been an increase in the pensions paid to employees amounting to $169,742.84. In the nine months from Oct. 1, 1910, to June 30, 1911, the amount paid out in pensions increased $26,969. In the year following the increase in pensions was $75,455, and for the nine months from June 30, 1912, to March 31, last, there was a still further increase of $67,317.

These figures indicate that the rate of increase in the amount of pensions paid is greater this year than in either of the two previous years, showing how the system is being extended.

The number of pensioners at the present time is 258 and they receive each month a total of $8,206.64. There are 22 general and other officers receiving a total of $2,409; fourteen clerks receiving $324.66; forty-seven agents and stationmen receiving $1073.40; thirty-nine switchmen and watchmen receiving $675.71; thirty-nine engineers receiving $1248.64; sixteen passenger conductors receiving $715.15; six freight conductors receiving $108.22, four other trainmen receiving $110; forty-eight shopmen receiving $1112.68, and twenty-three section foremen and laborers who get $181.44.

HIS MAIDEN SPEECH.

Congressman Reed Heard on the Sundry Bill.

Congressman Reed of this district made his maiden speech in the house of representatives on Friday, when he declared against reducing the number of board of managers of National Soldiers' Homes from 11 to 5. Representative McGillivuddy of Maine also was heard. Mr. Reed said in part:

"I believe it is unwise for this House to adopt a parsimonious policy. We should maintain a broad and liberal policy in taking care of the grand old body of men that this or any other country ever knew—the old soldiers who, by their deeds of valor have made this the beautiful country it is.

"Let us do nothing that will cause the old soldiers one moment's uneasiness or worry in their declining days. Let us, on the other hand, do everything we can to make their last days comfortable. It seems to me that as National legislators we owe that much to these old soldiers.

"We should not adopt this recommendation for a change in the present rules, which will bring about conditions that I am sure the membership of this House does not desire, particularly in view of the fact that no financial saving to the Government will be effected."

Three grounds for objection were advanced by Mr. McGillivuddy, the first being that no saving would be gained, while the effectiveness of the board would be reduced. The members of the board, he said, receive no salary, and their traveling expenses would be just as great for five as for 11, in view of the fact that the same amount of personal supervision would be necessitated.

"Furthermore," said Mr. McGillivuddy, "the homes are not to be conducted on lines of penny, but of patriotism." "The people," said he, "do not weigh this money in a mercenary's scales."

Finally, argued Mr. McGillivuddy, the change would foreshadow early abolition of the homes, and it was not right to throw the old soldiers out.

A letter was read from Gen. Warner, who declines reelection to the board, expressing disapproval of the suggested reduction, while resolutions to the same effect were read from the board itself and from many Grand Army Posts and individual veterans.

DOCTOR FROM EAST KILLED IN WEST

Pasadena, Cal., May 16—Dr. David H. Schwartz, a wealthy young doctor who came here recently from Brooklyn, N. Y., while driving his automobile on Santa Anita avenue, was struck by the Santa Fe limited train and almost instantly killed this noon.

Dr. Schwartz who was about 20 years old, leaves a mother and two sisters, Miss Ethel Schwartz, the elder is now visiting in the east. The younger sister Hattie, is a kindergarten teacher in this city.

Dr. Schwartz failed to see the train approaching and was squarely on the tracks when it hit him. He was hurled more than 30 feet, striking on his head.

SUICIDE AND DEATH ON CYMRIC'S TRIP

Portland Me., May 16—The White Star Dominion Line Steamer Cymric which arrived here today for Boston from Liverpool, reported the suicide of a fireman, William Dykes, who jumped overboard in sight of many of the passengers. He was 30 years old and senile is believed to have been the cause.

A young English girl, Mary Stubbs, who was coming to this country to meet her affianced in the Canadian Northwest, died from hysteria and was buried at sea.

PEACE DAY EXERCISES

Commemorating William Ladd, a Distinguished Citizen of This City-- Afternoon and Evening Program.

Commemorative exercises will be held on Sunday under the auspices of the Chicago Branch and the New Hampshire Branch of the American Peace Society. Sherman E. Burroughs of Manchester, vice president will preside.

In the afternoon at four o'clock the exercises will be at the grave of William Ladd, in the South cemetery. There will be brief addresses and a chorus of school children will sing. Should the weather be stormy the gathering will be held in the Middle street church.

In the evening at seven-thirty there will be general exercises in the North church. The speakers will be Charles E. Beals of Chicago and George J. Fogg of Portland. The prize essay will be read by the successful contestant from the Portsmouth high school. There will be special music. The church choir will be assisted by Oliver Dowd, violinist, and Mrs. Ira M. St. Clair, pianist. The gentlemen from abroad, representing those who have bestowed the burial place of William Ladd and made this occasion possible, will appreciate the cooperation of the people of this city in honoring the memory of one of her most distinguished citizens of the last century.

YORK BEACH

Mr. Morton of Boston, architect on the new Daniel Holland houses at Long Beach, was a guest at Grant Duff's recently.

Mrs. C. H. Marden, after spending a week at Union Bluff, has returned to Penasook, N. H.

Mrs. Abbie Butterfield is at her cottage at Long Beach for a short stay previous to the opening of the season.

Dr. and Mrs. Rumney of Randolph are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lewisbury at Concordville.

Mrs. May Tebbetts and Misses Ella Young and Lila Branka of Farmington are guests at the Butterfield cottage. Judge E. P. Spillane of North Berwick has hired a cottage of Edward Shattuck in Concordville. The family will arrive early in June to take possession.

John Clarke and Scott McIntyre of Somersworth were at Long Sands, Saturday, guests of Mrs. Butterfield.

Edward Shattuck has recently painted his cottage, "The Montello," at Concordville.

Mrs. Frank Bowden and daughter Elizabeth arrived at "The Old Homestead," from Swampscott, Mass., on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bowden and daughter of Somersworth were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Parsons.

Mr. and Mrs. Meader and Mrs. Andrews of Gorham were at their summer home at Dover Bluff of late.

The Friday evening meetings will be held for the remainder of the season at the church vestry.

William Wilkins went to Somersworth this week to visit Mrs. Phee, who is ill. Mrs. Phee usually spends her summers at the Horn cottage, Long Sands.

Mr. and Mrs. Holden of Waltham, are at their cottage, "Whole Den," at Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman A. Pentz have rented and are occupying Joseph L. Bont's bungalow on Atlantic avenue.

An automobile accident occurred here this week in front of the residence of Frank Ellis when Bessie Brice was struck by an automobile being driven by Bert Talpey, the owner, and a resident of Cape Neddick. The children of the neighborhood were playing in front of the Ellis garage when the little girls, Edna Bowden, Ester Brackett and Bessie Brice ran towards the street, not seeing the coming car. The automobile struck the little Brice girl, throwing her the distance of a number of feet, where she struck the ground with such force as to cut a bad wound upon her forehead. She was picked up insensible and was taken to the York hospital where she continued to be unconscious the remainder of the night. No bones were broken, however, and she is now gaining and it is expected that she will soon be recovered from the effects of the shock. Mr. Talpey was not held blameable as it was through fast driving that the accident occurred.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pike of Allston, who spent their summers at York, will be delayed somewhat this season through the illness of their little son, who has been in a serious condition, but is gaining.

Mrs. W. J. Milne, who has spent the winter in Portsmouth, is at "Ocean View," Long Sands, to put the house in readiness for summer.

Mrs. Ellen Morrill, Miss Annie Morrill and Miss Helen Brooks of South Berwick, were guests at George Morrill's Sunday. Mrs. Morrill and daughter Alberta accompanied them home by automobile.

Capt. C. O. Freeman, who has had a boat at the bay for the benefit of fishing parties for several seasons, went to Portsmouth this week for the purpose of buying a large motor boat to hold at least fifty passengers. This boat will replace the one used previously and will be kept at the bay for the benefit of the summer patronage. Capt. Freeman is well known here, being a resident of Cape Neddick and stands well with summer guests for his past faithful service.

Breezy Items From the Village Across the River.

Kittery correspondent's telephone, 778-M; P. O. address, Box 303.

The Heavenly gates were opened. A gentle voice said "Come." And with farewells unspoken She calmly entered home.

Miss Colla Mildred Donnell, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Donnell of Central street, passed away this morning at 6.20, aged about 21 years. Miss Donnell was one of Kittery's brightest and most popular young ladies, having been connected with many local societies including the Kittery Grange, Piscataqua Chapter of the Eastern Star, York Bohemian Lodge, and the Phobos, and was an earnest and conscientious worker in all of these organizations. For nine years she was the faithful organist at the Second Christian church, having taken that position when only fourteen years old. She was also a graduate of Trap Academy, and later of the Plymouth Business College of Portsmouth, and her last employment was with the William Conlon & Co. insurance office of Portsmouth, which position she was obliged to give up less than three weeks ago. Miss Donnell has been suffering from rheumatism for a long time, and later stomach trouble set in, with the result that she had been rapidly failing in health the last few months, and complications set in Wednesday, and from then but little hope was held for her recovery.

To the bereaved parents, the brother, and relatives, and the one who was near and dear to her, the sympathy of the whole community is extended in this hour of grief. A place is made vacant in the home, and in the social life of our village which never can be filled, and the hearts of all are filled with sorrow at the early taking away of one who was loved by all. Funeral services will be held Tuesday from the Second Christian church.

SEASON'S SHIBBOLETH

Originally it is the turning fork of sweetest melody. It is the shibboleth this season of the Sig. Sautelle's Big Shows. That "something new" that the world is always crying for, has been discovered by this wizard expert among showmen in things circusy. He acquires the monotonous sameness, and damning iteration of the hummed over alleged wild beasts. Those that have done Deadwood Coach acts from the days of the Last of the Mohicans. This show recognizes a duty to the public that is entitled to the newest, best, and most interesting.

The Sautelle Shows, the amusement folk will be pleased to learn, will give an exhibit in this city on May 27. Mr. Sautelle's inventive brain cells, invigorated by his few years' rest in idling the soil of his farm, have labored and brought forth an almost miracle. He has correlated the greatest features, actors, acrobats, athletes, animals, and general talent that ever gathered at one time. It is an all star aggregation; a bouquet of beauty, agility and nerve. All the strains of the coming season. Folks will have no need to wait for Barnum. The Sig. Sautelle shows are coordinate--par excellence in themselves. Don't miss the parade.

DRAGGED AND TRAMPLED ON BY A HORSE

Ralph A. Jones employed by Melvin C. Gould as driver of a wood delivery wagon, was injured on Friday afternoon on Water street.

He was driving down the street when the horse stopped and Jones fell from the seat down in between the horse and the wagon. The animal became frightened and ran away dragging Jones under the wagon and stepping on him as he ran. He was badly cut up and was unconscious when the animal was stopped.

SHOE NEWS

N. H. BEANE & CO.,

PORTSMOUTH.

DOROTHY DODD

This shows No. 5008 in our Dorothy Dodd. Fine patent, coltskin, one of the new shapes that give the foot a dignified appearance (all Dorothy Dodd's have a style peculiarly their own) and the quality that goes with shoes of the higher price. This season our selection of Dorothy Dodds is particularly pleasing and well worth the inspection of the woman of discriminating taste. All the popular leathers in a wide style range, priced from $3.50 to $5.00.

"The 'Houn' Dawg' is but one of the representative Ralston shoes which we show in patent coltskin, gun metal and Russian calf. Moderately high toes, rather straighter than some of the swing lasts, it gives a snappy look to the foot that appeals to the 'man about town'.

The man who don't wear Ralstons is doing himself an injustice.

BOYS

"The Shoe That's Right"

Sure enough, we've got a boys shoe that right, real leather, same style as "fathers" and a wearer. It fits too and is sold at the right price, $1.50 for the littler boys, $2.00 for the bigger boys.

INTERESTING NEWS

These are days of advancement. Advancement in Business, in Music and in Art. The latest claimant for public favor in the musical world is the Emerson Player Piano.

A glance at our advertising columns will show you how it looks. A demonstration at Montgomery's will convince you of its merits.

Always conservative in adopting new and untried features in its constructive policy, the out reliable Emerson Piano Company has waited until the pneumatic piano player has attained practical perfection before allowing it to become a feature of its factory product. Now, however, it is possible to purchase the STANDARD HOME PIANO OF AMERICA with its peculiarly lovely tone and responsive action, fitted with a thoroughly reliable and proven player action, at a moderate price. The ideal upright piano for any home is the EMERSON PLAYER PIANO. A superb musical or pneumatic instrument which all can play. You are most cordially invited to inspect it all.

FIREMEN WANT TO HOLD PARADE

Would Revive the Old Custom--Make Arrangements for Ten Memorial Services.

The officers of the different companies of the regular fire department and from the Franklin Pierce Veteran Firemen's Association met at the Col. Rice Co. house on Court street Friday evening to make arrangements for their tenth annual memorial service.

It was voted to hold the service on the second Sunday in June, the church to be decided upon at a later date.

The officers elected were President Horace W. Gray from the Veteran Association, Secretary, Charles H. Kehoe from the regular department.

At the same meeting an informal discussion was held about holding a parade of the local companies, the coming season, along the lines of the parade held years ago by which were always a source of enjoyment to the firemen and citizens.

Practically every man present was in favor of a renewal of the parade and an association was formed and a committee appointed to meet with the committee on fire department and the Chief Engineer and talk over the scheme of this association, Captain H. E. Pernal of Kearsarge Engine Co. was elected chairman and Charles H. Kehoe of Engine Co. No. 4 secretary.

The annual parade of the fire companies with the trial of the engines, was for years a big event in the department. They were discontinued some years ago much to the regret of the department and public alike.

IN BRIEF

Chicago.—For the first time in eighteen years the Duwamish club will hold its annual invitation golf tournament the announcement today putting the life of the western classics.

out of existence, temporarily, at least. Lack of interest in tournaments of late years is given as the reason for calling the event off.

Kansas City, Mo.—James P. Greenwood, for the last thirty-nine years superintendent of Kansas City public schools, resigned last night. The board of education immediately elected him adviser to the board, his salary of $1500 a year standing unchanged.

Washington.—Hopewell H. Darnelle, former tax collector of the District of Columbia, and a recognized authority on realty values in the capital, met death last night through a fall in the area of his home in Cleveland Park, a suburb. Hearing the sound of the fall, his 16-year-old daughter found him unconscious. Before medical aid could be summoned he died of hemorrhage of the brain. In addition to large holdings in local real estate Mr. Darnelle had extensive silver mine properties in Mexico.

Washington.—Secretary Daniels of the navy department will leave Washington tonight for Wilmington, N. C., where he will celebrate, on Sunday, May 18, the fifty-first anniversary of his birth in the residence that occupies the site of the house in which he first saw the light.

Wilmington, N. J.—With more than 100 deputies and private detectives on the scene, comparative quiet prevailed this morning in and about the Mount Hope mine of the Empire Iron and Steel company, whose laborers are on a strike. Recent rioting caused the sheriff to ask for state troops yesterday, but subsequently the situation was got so well in hand that the matter has been held in abeyance.

Honolulu.—Announcement was made today of the reorganization of the Kona River Shipbuilding company under the laws of Massachusetts. The company will be known as the Kona River Shipbuilding corporation. It has an authorized capital of $1,000,000 all common stock, at $100. The stock will be owned by the Bethlehem Steel company, which recently took over the business of the shipbuilding company. In order to provide working capital the new corporation will issue $750,000 20-year 5 per cent mortgage bonds.

Cincinnati, O.—Reports and address on subjects of interest to Young Men's Christian association workers were on the program today for the second day's session of the international convention of that organization.

Salem, Mass.—Mrs. Jessie M. Chapman of Lynn, who killed Mrs. Krivitzka because she said her neighbor had abandoned her, today pleaded guilty of murder in the second degree and was sentenced to life imprisonment in the reformatory for women at Sherborn. The woman was indicted soon after the shooting, which occurred in March, 1912, but never had been arraigned because at a time the question of her sanity was undecided.

New York.—After examining more than fifty witnesses, the federal grand jury, before which the government has been seeking an indictment against the United Fruit company as a monopolistic combination, was excused today subject to call. Government counsel announced that one or two witnesses might be recalled next week, after which the case would be closed. Whether indictments would then be handed down the attorneys refused to say. Most of the witnesses examined are officials of the subsidiary companies of the concern, including those of the Fruit Dispatch company, a selling agency. The higher officials of the company and some of the directors were not subpoenaed, for to do so would give them immunity.

Washington.—Secretary Bryan returned from New York early today and was at his desk long before the cabinet meeting at which he was to present the reply of the United States to Japan's protest against the California land legislation.

Jersey City, N. J.—A well dressed man, who shot and killed himself on a street corner here last night, was identified today as James J. Carlshe of 14 Suydam avenue, Waterbury, Conn. He had been in ill health for some time and had come to New York for treatment.

Washington.—Sour bread, baked after the French army fashion, finally has been given up by the United States military establishment. After numerous experiments commissary General H. C. Sharpe has developed a new bread that is impervious to the weather, sweeter than the old leaves and easier to transport.

Washington.—Charles T. Burns, an assistant foreman in the weather bureau, suspended at the time of the dismissal of Chief Willis L. Moore, today was reduced in rank and salary by Secretary Houston, who declared Burns "guilty of misconduct in the performance of his duties." Moore was dismissed for "serious irregularities" and misuse of his office, of which it was alleged he had been guilty in his campaign for appointment as secretary of agriculture in President Wilson's cabinet. The case was referred to the department of justice for investigation. Burns was charged with "completing."

NEW ENGLAND EDUCATORS VISIT WISCONSIN UNIVERSITY

New England educators and those interested in the wonderful work accomplished by the University of Washington through its extension division are invited by the Boston Chamber of Commerce to join an expedition trip to Madison, Wisconsin, to leave Boston Tuesday next, May 20, at 10.30 a. m. If application is made to the Secretary of the Boston Chamber of Commerce by Monday morning, arrangements can be made for adding a limited number to the party.

The purposes of the trip which is undertaken with the cooperation of the University of Wisconsin and the city club of Philadelphia is to study carefully the remarkable educational venture and triumph that the University has wrought through its extension work. Wisconsin prides herself upon the close association of her educational institutions and her government for the public welfare, and the program which has been arranged for the four days sessions beginning Wednesday evening, May 21, is exceedingly comprehensive, interesting, and filled with constructive possibilities.

Among the party which will go from the Boston Chamber of Commerce are A. Lincoln Filleau, Carl Dreyfus, William H. Bowker, Clarence G. McDavitt, Alvin E. Todd, and Frank E. Locke.

DROPPED DEAD

James A. McCloud of Kittery Point dropped dead on Friday evening at his Kittery Point home. He had been ill for some time but he was in this city late in the afternoon and had just got home when he dropped. He was 60 years of age and has worked for years on the navy yard. He leaves two daughters and two sons.

GEORGIA IS ADDED TO NEWPORT FLEET.

Newport, R. I.—The naval fleet at Newport was increased by one battleship Thursday afternoon, the Georgia, Capt. Marbury Johnson, of the third division, which arrived from the Boston navy yard.

The arrival of the Georgia makes nine battleships which are now anchored off Newport. The Rhode Island which has been undergoing standardization trials off Rockland, is expected back in the bay either today or early tomorrow, and this will make 10 ships to enter the maneuvers in Block Island sound next week.

Coming Very Slow

Today, the sixth day since the inauguration of the civil service for yard workmen, finds only 22 names on the application blanks handed to the labor board for employment. It is not known at the yard when the first examination will be held by the examining board.

Open On Monday

The new temporary railway yard bridge will be opened for traffic on Monday.

To Beautify the Grounds

The department of public works is at work on plans for the beautifying of that part of the yard surrounding the new naval hospital. Walks, lawns, drives, etc., will be laid out there and when completed will be the most picturesque spot on the island.

Failed to Convict Them

Word reached here today that some of the contractors on trial for graft at Norfolk have been exonerated, and that the contracts have been restored. A number of them were released.

The Herald Hears

That the new naval hospital will be ready by June 1.

That the carpenter's strike brought no change today.

That the girl of the period is sometimes known as a sevens.

That it is nearly time to warm up on the playground diamond.

That Junkins avenue is in the shade for all.

That the street department did another piece of good work on Lafayette Road.

That the Public Works department will begin oiling the streets on Monday next.

That the small boy and the big house ball hit is much in evidence just now.

That it appears that all the heroes were not given credit for their work in fighting the midnight fire on Washington street the other night.

That Jack Holland was "Johnny on the spot" again and was temporary chief of the volunteer department.

That Frank McDermott and his chum O'Rourke were also there with the goods.

That it would be hard for any fire to get away from this bunch.

That the medals ought to come along soon.

That nothing will hold up a woman quicker than a hat store window.

That the man with the straw hat did not have much luck in forcing the season.

That the Undertaker winks at the man who mixes rum with business.

That several fishing parties are planned for tomorrow.

That the Gildet Club believes it has the "Grem" of trout fishermen.

That nobody ever catches up with tomorrow.

That the Ballers and Soldiers monument in Goodwin Park is still in the hands of dissection.

That it is time something was done there before summer arrives.

That that was some serenade on Haverhill street last night.

That Charlie says the wise guys handed it to him strong.

That the sidewalk critic is never out of a job.

That a good onion is better than a sleeping powder to some people.

That the people of this city would like to hear that whistle on the paper mill once again.

OBITUARY

Hannah M. Annable.
Miss Hannah Annable, who has been at the Mark Wentworth Home for two months, passed quietly away at midnight on Friday. Her life of seventy years has been always in Portsmouth. She will be most kindly remembered by very many of the older, and by not a few of the younger people of her native city. Her father was the late Charles Annable, who in the early days of the Eastern railroad was the depot master at Portsmouth, while Mr. George Annable, his brother, was a conductor between this city and Boston. Both had been stage drivers on the route of the old Eastern Stage Company, which ended its existence when the railroad was opened.

Miss Annable had for some years been in business in Portsmouth on Daniel street, in partnership with Miss Mary Marden, the firm name being Annable & Marden, and their business dry goods and nicknacks. Afterwards she took a position as clerk in the store of Messrs. Ayers & Locke, where she remained for several years. She was afterwards for twenty-three years the storekeeper at the Appleton House, Isles of Shoals, until 1910. Her residence was at the homestead of her father in Newington. At her bedside in her last moments was her niece, Mrs. George Fogg, who had been adopted by Miss Annable and who looked upon her almost as a mother. She had been for many years an esteemed member of the North Congregational church, and she was greatly beloved for her amiable and loving disposition by all who entered into the circle of her acquaintance.

"A GIRL SPY IN MEXICO"—Lubin

Two Reels.

The war is on between the Insurrectos and Federal troops in Old Mexico and the International firing is playing havoc. The Senorita Armaje, not hearing of her lover Lieut. Blanco, goes to the insurgent camp, and to assist his cause, dresses as a Red Cross nurse and enters the Federal camp as a spy. She is, however, discovered and arrested. Through the aid of Armaje, Blanco captures one of the Federal spies and using him as a guide, he himself enters the Federal camp. There he succeeds in effecting his sweetheart's escape. Colonel Ferro declares he will capture them again, and accomplishes his wish. Blanco and the Senorita are marched onward to what end—we know not. A great war drama of a month ago.

RAILROAD CHANGES.

C. W. Lewis in Direct Charge of Portsmouth Electric Line.

Recent orders from the department of maintenance and way of the Boston & Maine railroad place C. W. Lewis, a track supervisor of the Portland division in direct charge of the tracks and roadbed of the Portsmouth Electric Street railway. This has for several years been in charge of the Assistant Superintendent P. P. Fougate. In the future Track Foreman Smart and crew employed on the street line report directly to Mr. Lewis.

PARENTS—

We are confident you have never had in town an opportunity to select from so large a showing of boys' clothing as we offer you this season.

Our unusually big business in that department last year encouraged us to make this year a stronger effort than ever before for your patronage and satisfaction.

A visit will convince you.
